WHY BROKERS & CLIENTS CHOOSE ALLIANZ FOR AVIATION PRODUCTS LIABILITY

Allianz has the expertise, products and services to deliver solutions customized to the needs of aerospace manufacturers in North America and around the world. Brokers and their clients look to us for:

- High-level aviation manufacturing experience across underwriting and claims
- International insurance solutions – an Allianz network that spans 211 countries/territories
- Claims expertise – adjusters, attorneys, consultants and experts that specialize in complex aviation products claims
- Market leading capacity
- Industry specific solutions
- Broad appetite for critical and non-critical products
- A dedicated aviation products liability team

APPETITE

- Risks from all areas in the sector
- Standard coverages for small risks as well as tailored solutions for large programs
- Cross-class offers to clients (with other lines of business)
- International insurance solutions
- More selective underwriting of e.g.
 - loss active accounts
 - manufacturers hull and spares coverage
 - coverage extensions

PURPOSE OF POLICY

Modern aircraft can have up to four million parts. Allianz provides tailored aviation products liability solutions to cover the designers, manufacturers and distributors of critical and non-critical component parts. We cover every part from “nose to tail”. Standard General Liability and products policies usually exclude aviation products which makes aviation products liability coverage a key part of a properly structured insurance program.

AVIATION PRODUCTS LIABILITY BUSINESS

- Prime airframe manufacturers
- Engine manufacturers
- Avionics manufacturers
- Component part manufacturers
- Maintenance – repair & overhaulers
- Suppliers/distributors/dealerships
