

TODAY'S MULTINATIONAL RISK

Today's US multinationals are challenged by an ever-increasing change of pace and complexity impacting how they react to such changes and remain compliant. The role of the risk manager has never been so challenging. Read on to learn how Allianz can help you navigate these turbulent waters.

GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES & OPPORTUNITIES

International growth continues unabated, and complexity increases with worldwide operations, outsourcing and the growth of the international value chain.

US multinationals face important decisions in terms of risk assessment and insurance placement. They need to understand the external challenges be they regulatory, statutory, fiscal or compliance related in each of the jurisdictions where their business operates.

GLOBAL PROGRAMS – ONE OF THE SOLUTIONS

One strategy which can be pursued is to put in place a global program, utilizing centralized decision-making and consolidating local covers, which may have been placed separately. This can be a daunting and somewhat time-consuming task however the benefits may well be worth the investment for the transparency gained and more streamlined coverage and control.

Allianz Global Corporate & Specialty (AGCS) is one of a small number of carriers able to offer global programs on all lines of business. We call our offering Allianz Multinational.

AGCS is a market leader serving more than 2,500 programs globally with extensive experience and industry specific knowledge. We have one of the largest owned networks, and in addition work with key partners to offer policies in over 210 countries and territories. We have over 1,000 Servicing experts globally. ## INTERNATIONAL LIABILITY PRACTICE IN NORTH AMERICA

Building on existing expertise and knowhow – AGCS has now launched a dedicated international liability team in the US to provide seamless global liability programs for US multinationals.

This team is being led by John Huh, Regional Head International Liability Practice along with a team of experienced underwriters in our New York regional office.

Consistency, breadth of cover and economies of scale delivered by AGCS global programs - makes it a critical value-added service for our trading partners and clients in North America.

WHAT WE CAN OFFER

At the core of the AGCS International Liability practice is the concept of a centrally co-ordinated International Insurance Program (IIP). In compliance with relevant insurance regulations, Locally admitted policies are provided in all countries, according to a clients' specific risk and exposure needs.

A global Master Cover providing Difference in Conditions/ Difference in Limits (DIC/DIL) is then structured to absorb or leverage coverage gaps at the local level, again with due deference to local regulations.

The worldwide scope of coverage as well as the detailed structure is always a joint enterprise with our clients.

Further information can be found in our new brochure – Allianz Multinational – Liability International Insurance Programs.
