In this business climate, companies must ensure that they are adequately protecting their customers/clients, on-site vendors/contractors and other third-parties including family members of employees from harmful exposures such as COVID-19.

One must complete a thorough review of how their business interacts with all non-employees. Is the “Duty of Care” to proactively prevent contact with this communicable disease implemented using the most current prudent practices provided by the Centers For Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), World Health Organization and the Local Health Department?

Proactively engaging in COVID-19 business practices will help prevent negligence from failure to protect third-party entities and Brand Protection.

- In the effort to protect your guest or customer, vendors and contractors and all other non-employees from contracting COVID-19, one should be deploying the most current guidelines provided through the World Health Organization and CDC. https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/organizations/businesses-employers.html

- Practice Social Distancing which may include restricting group meetings in favor of video conferencing or other avenues and Personal Hygiene Practices in accordance to CDC.

- Sanitizing Stations – In addition to using the wash stations, make sanitizing stations available at the lobby entrance.

- Sanitizing And Disinfection Policy for commonly touched items. Remove non-essential touch items to reduce risk of exposure and need for the frequent disinfecting of the objects.

Refer to the following recommendations by:

Other resources:

- www.cdc.gov
- www.who.int
- https://www.nuco.com/fcs/2020/03/03/pandemic-checklist/
QUESTIONS OR COMMENTS?

PLEASE CONTACT

SCOTT STEINMETZ, P.E.
Global Head of MidCorp ARC
scott.steinmetz@agcs.allianz.com